

Theophilus T. Cromwell

Vice-President, International Relations

Investor Relations · Strategist · Investment Portfolio Advisor · Business Management

Featured in “7 Questions with Leaders” and “28 Credentials of Entrepreneurs magazine”, Theophilus is also noted as being an Executive Member of The Commonwealth Entrepreneurs Club.

You will find Theophilus at the intersection of strategy, innovation, insights and investments where he partners with companies/organizations/brands to craft their strategies for development, marketing, engagement and introductions to investors for investments and development funds globally. Theo is hardworking, dynamic and fast learning. These qualities make him a ‘wonder kid’, a versatile team player and a great personality to work with. He has expertise in brand marketing, business development, social media marketing, real estate brokerage, clients service, deal origination and sourcing, due diligence and intelligence gathering. He also has knowledge and experience in Information Technology (I.T) and Business Management.

Theophilus is currently the Vice President for International Relations for EcoPhilic concurrently positioned as the Head of Investors Relations of Asian-African Chamber of Commerce & Industry – AACCI, (Ghana In Country). A transnational chamber organization that facilitates business trade across Asia and Africa, which has its secretariat office in India.

Theophilus specializes in leads generation, investor-investee matching, relationship building and client’s qualification. This strategic combination of skills qualifies him as a great asset to EcoPhilic as he brings the relationships garnered from his various connections to EcoPhilic in business development and portfolio quality management playing an important role in matters regarding investment strategy, asset allocation and investment risk-returns analysis and management for EcoPhilic’s consortium of partners. .

Theophilus is spread equally as he works in the role of Head of Sales and Marketing – Africa of CMT Group of Companies, a construction chemical manufacturing firm based in Doha, Qatar. A Country Manager of Willow Thrive Partners, Based in Belgium, and a Research Coordinator of African Rating Agency (ARA).

Theophilus also serves as an International Partner of World Business Angels Investment Forum, (WBAF) honorably representing his country, Ghana at the Grand Assembly, an international platform that brings together key players of the equity markets to discuss the benefits and challenges of achieving successful growth for businesses and to explore additional possibilities for empowering the world economy.

Complimenting his vast relationships, he is also honored to be on the Advisory Board and Head of Investor Relations of The Private Office of His Excellency, Edward Agyekum Kufuor, an Investment Portfolio Advisor for Aspire World Investment and a Portfolio Manager of Heritage Capital Management Ltd, a Ghana based investment facilitation company.

EcoPhilic